

Copper Tube Market Information - 11/16/19

Plumbing Tube Comments:

Copper fell in New York and London this morning on concern that China, the world's biggest consumer of the metal, may take further steps to cool its economic growth. Markets will remain nervous until final decisions are reported. This volatility could move either way and we'll be watching closely to insure our customers are kept competitive.

We will continue to price all orders from our November 8, 2010 price sheet.
