Plumbing Tube Comments:

Copper has gained 25% this year as declining stockpiles signaled more demand. This week we have seen the precious commodity hit $4.20 per pound and many factors will contribute to keeping the metal at higher levels. Exchange Trade Product funds continue to buy up available inventory giving a lift to demand and China continues to tweak their economy adding to the lift.

Cerro Flow Products will price all orders from their November 8, 2010 price sheet.
