

COPPER TUBE MARKET INFORMATION - February 22, 2011

HD Supply

Plumbing Tube Comments:

Demand for copper, primarily from Asia is expected to help prices establish themselves at continued high levels long term. Although the market moves by the nickel, prices for raw materials are so high it doesn't move costs percentages greatly. Most speculators and analysts predict the copper market to remain at higher levels for the coming months.

All orders will be priced from Cerro Flow Products list price sheet dated February 2, 2011.
